

BETTER WARRANTIES

THE BEST MATERIALS COMBINE TO MAKE THE MOST DEPENDABLE DAYLIGHTING SYSTEMS

We take pride in providing you with the most dependable systems in the daylighting industry, and our systems are backed by industry-best warranties for weathering performance.

Ultimate Series™ Face Sheets

Major's Guardian 275® translucent panel systems feature Ultimate Series™ translucent face sheet technology. Developed in cooperation with Crane Composites, one of the leading fiberglass manufacturers in the world, the Ultimate Series™ is a blend of advanced resins, powerful UV inhibitors and glass fibers that allow us to offer industry-long warranties against weathering.

The most common critique of translucent panels is that they can change color with long-term exposure to UV rays. While older polymer technology had a hard time combatting damaging UV, new formulations and advancements now allow us to offer up to 20 year warranties against color change. Other concerns, like fiberbloom - where the glass fibers in the resin start to show through the exterior - have been virtually eliminated as well and are protected by warranties up to 25 years.

Long-lasting Kynar® Finishes

All of our aluminum framed systems are available with Kynar® finishes - the "gold standard" in the industry. Kynar® high-performance architectural fluoropolymer coatings (PVDF resin-based coatings) offer excellent color retention, salt-spray resistance, simple field touch-up and repainting capabilities and a vast range of color options - and can meet AAMA 2604 (50% Kynar®) or 2605 (70% Kynar®) specifications.

Major offers a wide range of standard Kynar® colors to choose from and can color-match an existing color to match your design. Some configurations also allow for varying colors within the same system (contact our sales team for details).

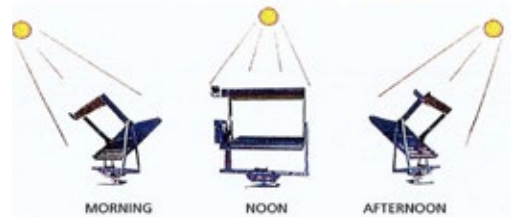

High-performance anodize finish options are also available (AAMA 611 Class I Anodize Finish). Contact on our of our sales team members to find out more on all of our finish options.

Making the Right Comparisons

Be sure to read all warranty information carefully for terms and conditions. While similar products may seem to have similar warranties, that's not always the case.
